British Columbia is splendidly diverse, home to talented people who continually push the boundaries of what cool climate winegrowing can be. Terroir in this province is an experience. We breathe it in the coastal air of Vancouver Island or feel it on sun-warmed rocks in the Similkameen Valley.

To honour this exploration, we commit to a wine list that's 100% British Columbia. It's a celebration of the relationships we forge, nurture, and value. In that spirit, we invite you to share a taste of what our friends have to offer. We're happy to help you discover the places we love so dearly.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WINE REGIONS

Okanagan Valley

+190 wineries, four sub-geographical indications (sub-gi)

Extensive growing region including Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver, and Osoyoos to the US border encompassing more than 80% of BC's vineyards. An arid, desert-like climate with overall low rainfall, hot summers, cooler winters moderated by Okanagan Lake. Further definition of sub-geographical indications is ongoing.

Skaha Bench

sub-gi established 2019

Defined by one landscape element: the glaciocrustine terrace relating to the end of the last ice age. Unconsolidated materials of largely silt and fine sand resulting from deglaciation, and spanning 10km to the east of Skaha Lake.

Lillooet

2 wineries

Fertile lower elevation riverbanks around Lillooet following the valley floor along highway 12 to Lytton. Arid landscape surrounded by mountains; climate similar to the Okanagan and Similkameen with colder winters.

Golden Mile Bench

sub-gi established 2015

The first official sub-gi. Defined by elevation, aspect, soil, and climate found in and bounded by unique landforms created in the alluvial fans formed by Testalinden Creek, Hester Creek, Tintah Creek, and Reid Creek.

Similkameen Valley

+15 wineries

Includes Princeton but established growing areas are Keremeos and Cawston, the organic farming capital of BC. Continental climate with a broad temperature range and windy, with hot summers and cold winters.

Thompson Valley

4 wineries

Includes Cache Creek and Ashcroft, but the growing region is Kamloops and east to Chase. Gold mining legends abound in these ranchlands. Continental climate and an arid landscape with dry summers and cold winters.

Okanagan Falls

sub-gi established 2018

Defined by two landforms: a glaciocrustine landscape along the Oliver Ranch Road, and one of mixed sediments landscape from Shuttleworth Creek below Peach Cliff and the slope along McLean Creek Road.

Vancouver Island

+30 wineries

Encompasses the whole of the island with growing areas from Campbell River to Victoria. A cooler coastal climate moderated by mountains and the Pacific Ocean.

Cowichan Valley

sub-gi established 2020

Roughly defined as the area between the Cowichan watershed, the eastern coastline from Mill Bay to Maple Bay and the western area of Cowichan Lake. Vineyards here have a long growing season with low frost risk.

The Gulf Islands

+8 wineries

Includes growing areas of the Islands from Denman and Hornby to Saltspring, Saturna, and south of Pender. Cooler coastal climate moderated by the Pacific Ocean.

Naramata Bench

sub-gi established 2019

Defined by two landforms: a gullied glaciocrustine land surface of the signature Naramata Bench, and the mixed deposits at higher elevation including metamorphic rocks. Extends from Okanagan Mountain Provincial Park to Penticton Creek.

Kootenays

+6 wineries

Boundaries north from Nakusp, south to Trail and Fruitvale. A continental climate with hot summers and cold winters; diverse agriculture, newly into viticulture.

Fraser Valley

+40 wineries

Includes the Lower Mainland to Chilliwack and Hope. Rich farmland with dense soils. A cooler climate influenced by the Pacific Ocean. Higher rainfall with moisture pressures.

Shuswap

10 wineries

Includes Salmon Arm, north to Sicamous and south to Enderby. Hot summers but the coolest growing in the province. Some moderation from Shuswap Lake.
